Nature isn't very forgiving. And no matter how exquisite the architecture is, if the roofing drainage system isn't designed effectively, it can cause serious problems. That's why you should call in the experts from ACCU-PLANE. Sure, we offer the latest tapered roofing insulation solutions, to make certain your roofing system drains. But we also bring decades of know-how to bear during the design phase, to ensure you get the best pre-engineered system available, at the best possible price. Because what starts out well in the beginning turns out well in the end. And we're on call during construction to assure effortless installation. So avoid the problems water ponding can cause, and at the same time enhance your thermal resistance. Call in the expertise of ACCU-PLANE on your next project. Because we've been tested by the best.

ROXUL'S VALUE-ADDED PARTNER AND TAPERED SPECIALIST SINCE 1998

Flat and tapered ProtecRSS-X2

We transform Roxul® high performance dual density stone wool into highly effective sloped roofing insulation systems.

Shiplapped or square edges

Because of its excellent dimensional stability, stone wool can be installed in a single layer. We shiplap the edges as an extra level of protection against thermal bridges.

Pre-cut crickets

Avoid the messy on-site cutting of crickets while using the best material available to the roofing market today.

Pre-cut sumps

An insulation that does not retain, but disperses moisture is the perfect substrate for your membrane, especially in high moisture areas such as drains.
